IMPORTANT TO THE PUBLIC!
THE following advertisement was published in May, 1849, in the "Boston Daily Times," and various other newspapers in the United States, by James G. Wilson, Esq., the owner of the "Woodworth Patent," shortly after I had advertised my "PATENT STATIONARY CUTTER, PLANING, TONGUEING, AND GROOVING MACHINE," throughout the United States:

"PLANING MACHINES.

"I take this method of answering the frequent inquiries, by letter and otherwise, as to my opinion upon the various notices through the papers, of the Stationary Knife Planing Machines attempted to be palmed off upon several persons ignorant of their true worth. I would state for the information of the enquirers that they will find substantially the machine now offered by several pretending inventors, described in the 10th volume of the Repertory of Arts, invented by Samuel Bentham, in the year 1791. Also machines similar to this country by one Kugler, some six teen years since, and another one put up by Albert Richards, of West Troy, N. Y., and abandoned. Also the same time I brought to satisfy the public to know that after fifty eight years experimenting upon these machines, not one in use is of any value for the purposes contemplated

I will furnish a Stationary Knife Machine equal to any now in use, or to any offered by the pretending inventors, at the cost of the machine and five per cent for my trouble.
JAMES G. WILSON,
Philade phia."

May 19, 1849

I deny that any person ever saw or heard of such a machine as mine until I invented the same. I sold machine No 1 to be operated in the month of August, 1848, and no machine before this could do so much work, and do it as well as mine. In reply to the above advertisement, and in order that the public may be assured that I mean what I say, I will offer to the ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS against an equal amount from said Wilson, that ONE of my machines will plane, or plane, tongue and groove, more lumber in the same time, with like number of hands, and do it as well, or better than TWO of the "Woodworth" machines. The trial to be at my Steam Mill, Boylston St., East Boston, Mass., made at my Steam Mill, Boylston St., East Boston, Mass., and to be worked in the same manner as such machines are usually worked, and to be conducted by such persons as may be convenient for such a trial.

The American Cough Candy.
WE know of nothing in the annals of medicine which has achieved, within the same space of time, so just and general a reputation, as the above invaluable Cough Remedy. Testimonials of its wonderful efficacy in curing the most inveterate cold continue to flow in upon us. We are assured that where ever used it is superseding all other remedies of the kind Grevious to relate, the Nightingale had she tested its virtue, probably never would have taken to herself a Goldschmidt. She having taken that melancholy step, from the fear that her voice was gone forever, having experienced only temporary relief from the Remedy last taken.
Why is the American Cough Candy like a Black Cloud? Because it goes ahead of Storms

VOLUME VIII. MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL. NEW SERIES.

Letters from Mr. Weed---No. 22.

Editorial Correspondence of the Albany Evening Journal.

NAPLES, Feb. 21.

The King, who resided most of the time at his Palace in the country, has been for a week in the city. This augments the Guard about the Palace. In passing yesterday, at the tap of a drum, I saw several hundred Soldiers rush to their posts within and without the Palace Gate. Soon, the Royal Coach appeared, and as it passed in, the Troops presenting Arms, instead of the King, as I expected, my eyes were rewarded with a sight of two Royal Babies and their Nurse. But the King was out riding subsequently with the Queen. He is of good height, rather portly, and apparently over forty. He is, I understand, a man of fair talents, good temper, and kind disposition, preferring ease to action. He comes from that branch of the Bourbon Family which Bonaparte stigmatized as "never learning, or forgetting anything." His policy is in harmony with that of Austria.

There is a large military force (Neapolitans and Swiss) in the city. They look like fine troops.—Within a few years the King has been converting the Lazzaroni into Soldiers, and the experiment was regarded as of doubtful utility, it turns out that fellows who were good for nothing else, make capital soldiers.

Sentinels are posted "as thick as blackberries" throughout the City, by means of which excellent order is preserved. At night the Sentinels wear "Spook" like appearances, being enveloped in long white sack cloaks with a hood.

The Mediterranean Squadron, which for more than thirty years has consisted of several Ships, has been reduced down to the Independence, and a month or more since she was ordered home: but in consequence of the changed aspect of Public Affairs, at the suggestion of our Diplomatic Representative, Com Morgan awaits the further orders of the Navy Department. With a large Commerce in the numerous Ports of the Mediterranean, at a crisis like the present, we ought, instead of one Ship, to have three or four cruising in this Sea; that is, if Ships-of-war are essential to the protection of the rights and interests of our Countrymen.

Sailors will be what they have been everywhere and through all time. Scarcely any of them come on shore with money in their pockets without getting into a scrape. They collect the Mountebanks, Showmen, &c. around them, giving them more money for half-an-hour's foolery than they gather from others in a month. Then they charter vehicles and drive John-like through the City till they get "cast away," bringing up finally, after a fight, in a guard-house. Sometime since, half-a-dozen American tars came to the conclusion, over their cups in a Sailors' Cafe, that it was a "bloody shame" to keep several hundred jolly fellows whom they had seen through the grates of a Prison, thus cribbed, without their "grog." So they started off with the determination to go to the Prison doors. Approaching the Guard, their leader, in a set speech, explained the nature of their enterprise. But as the Sentinel did not understand English, they "damned his eyes" and pushed ahead. The Sentinel and a comrade presented their bayonets, but Jack immediately pitched into them, disarming and overthrowing both. Reinforcements, however, were at hand, and the Sailors, after a gallant resistance, were captured and marched off to Prison themselves.

We went yesterday to the Tomb of Virgil, which is in a lonely spot on the brow of a mountain, overlooking the city and bay. Immediately under this Tomb is the mouth of a Grotto, remarkable in form and history, extending through this mountain. This Grotto or Tunnel is the road which connects Naples with the ancient town of Pozzuoli. It forms a beautiful carriage-way, from which to the summit of the Arch, is a distance of from seventy to one hundred feet.—When, or by whom it was constructed, history telleth not, though it is spoken of by Seneca, Pliny and others of their time. At the Western end of the Grotto, Marcus Brutus had a Villa on the small Island of Nesis, where there is now a Lazzaretto.

Near Pozzuoli, at the ancient harbor of Cumae, St. Paul, when, after appealing from Agrippa to Caesar, he was sent in "the se bonds" from Jerusalem to Rome, and after his tempestuous voyage, disembarked. And here, (Pozzuoli) before commencing his land journey to Rome, the Apostle tarried seven days. This, therefore, is Apostolic as well as Classic ground.

We visited the Royal Palace yesterday, also. It is of course very spacious and very superbly finished. In the State Apartments are many rare Paintings by the old Masters, and much costly furniture. The Apartments occupied by the King's Family comprise a very inconsiderable part of the Palace. It is only on great occasions that the magnificent suite of Rooms we saw are lighted up. The King's birth-day, which occurred recently, was brilliantly celebrated. On this occasion, our townsman, Gen. Cooper, in full military costume, was presented by Mr. Morris.

Naples is the place for Coral ornaments. From here most of the work of this description comes. It constitutes an important item in the occupation and traffic of the city. Once the deepest colors were most valued; but afterwards those of a lighter hue have come in fashion; and none now but the palest are held in esteem. Corals, therefore, almost colorless, command the highest prices. I saw a gentleman yesterday ordering ten Coral buttons for a Lady's Vest, which cost, eighty dollars, while those which, to my unfashionable eye, were more desirable, might have been purchased for one-eighth part of the money.

Campo Santo, the Cemetery of Naples, is eligibly selected on an eminence about a mile and a half from the City. I was surprised to find it even more elaborate in Chapels and with grounds more highly ornamented than those of Pere la Chaise. Indeed it is the most impressive Cemetery I have seen. Wealthy Families have expensive vaults, over which chapels are erected. The various congregations have, also, their separate grounds and chapels. The Poor are interred in lots set apart for them. At the head of each grave is a cross containing a number corresponding with a number recorded in the Keeper's books. Interments of Soldiers, from Hospitals, Alms-Houses, &c., are in Catacombs in the centre of the Cemetery. The Ground for this Cemetery (the ancient Campo Santo being nearer the City) was consecrated only twelve years ago, and yet the number of interments has already reached 10,000.

We passed from the solemnities of Death to the frivolities of Life, for on entrance into the City the streets were rife with the Buffooneries of the Carnival, this being its last day. These exhibitions are really too grotesque and ridiculous to describe. I will give a single illustration. Our carriage stopped as a multitude poured out of a narrow street. The Carnival Persons consisted of half a dozen Lazzaroni in coarse masks and flashy costume. The principal actor mounted a rostrum and proclaimed his ability and readiness to cure all maladies. He leaned his wonderful medical secrets, he said, from the Indians in America. The subordinates disappeared among the crowd, but soon one of them was seen approaching, bellowing vociferously. This Patient had a tooth-ache. The doctor first used a chisel and mallet to loosen the tooth, and then drew out an enormous tusk with large iron pinchers, greatly to the edification of the multitude. Then came another whose Arm had to be sawed off; and another, whose Stomach had to be opened, from which a sheep's pluck was taken. Other operations, to the increasing admiration of the auditors followed. And finally a Female Patient approached, but suspecting that this case was one that might not exactly accord with our ideas of propriety, we drove on before the Lady was declared to be "as comfortable as could be expected." This is a fair specimen of Carnival festivities!

I saw the other day what struck me as a Medical novelty, or at least a novel mode of Inoculation for Kine Pox. This was the "Pock Cow." She is led about the city from house to house, the Doctor inquiring at each whether they have any children for inoculation? The matter, instead of coming, as with us, from the Doctors Saddle-bags, is taken directly from the cow's bag, into which fresh incisions are made with the Lancet.

Naples, Feb. 22.

The name of Washington is known throughout the World, and his character is revered by all civilized nations. This, the anniversary of his birthday, was appropriately honored here. Looking out in the Bay this morning, my eyes were greeted with the Stars and Stripes streaming from nearly all the vessels in port. The United States Ship Independence was gaily decorated with the flags of all nations. The American flag was also displayed by the Neapolitan Ships of War.

In the evening, our Charge d'Affaires, the Hon. E. J. Morris, gave a brilliant Birth-day Fete. His Mansion was handsomely illuminated. Over its entrance the name of Washington was described by variegated lamps. The Americans at Naples (resident and visitors) were invited. The Officers of the U. S. Ship Independence, together with several Officers from a British Steam Frigate just arrived, were there. The Diplomatic Corps were present. Sir Wm. Temple, (brother of Lord Palmerston,) who has represented his Government here for 20 years, attended with his Attaches, and manifested the highest interest in the character of Washington, and much admiration for America.—Several Officers of the Swiss Regiments stationed here, and many Neapolitan Ladies and Gentlemen were in attendance.

A large Suite of Rooms were thrown open. The scene was enlivened by a fine Band. At 11 the Supper Room, displaying a profusion of delicacies was thrown open, and at twelve we left a large and cheerful party engaged in the enjoyment of conversation and dancing.

I see it stated that the Pope is to send a contribution of Marble for the Washington Monument. The Monument Association may look in this direction for another contribution, and one that cannot fail to be valued. Mr. Morris has asked for, and I believe obtained from the King of Naples, permission to take from Herculaneum a block of Lava for this great National Memento. It will be sent home in the U. S. Ship Independence. Mr. M. has obtained permission, also, to excavate two Tombs at Herculaneum, the contents of which, or such as may be suitable, will be sent to America.

After reading the Speech of Senator Stockton, on the question of Flogging in the Navy, I asked Lieutenant Drayton, the Flag Officer of the Independence, how this Reform worked? His views on the subject are so practical, and so manifestly sound, that I cannot forbear repeating them briefly, in the hope that they may meet the eyes and claim the attention of some member of Congress, who can be induced to act upon them.

Lieut. Drayton says he is quite sure that Flogging, as a general punishment, is repugnant to the feelings of most Officers of the Navy. He entertains no doubt but that the system may be reformed with great usefulness. But he says that the Law abolishing the Cat involved the necessity of providing other and better modes of punishment. Now, all the power Officers possess is to confine Sailors for misconduct, and this, especially in bad weather or when hard work is being done, is a relief rather than a punishment, so much so, indeed, that it is not unusual for bad men to disobey orders expressly to shirk duty.—It says that two-thirds or three-quarters of all the offences committed by Sailors result from Rum. By abolishing the Grog Ration, therefore, occasions for punishment would be comparatively rare. Congress should, he says, after prohibiting Rum and Flogging, establish by Law modes of punishment applicable to various offences, and graduated, as they are by other laws. But the leading features in a wise penal Code, in the judgment of Lieut. Drayton, should, be, first, reward for good conduct; and second; expulsion of irreclaimably bad men from the service. Now, he says the best Sailor in the Navy, even if he be a man fit to command, fares no better than the worst one. He gets neither promotion nor privileges, nor thanks for years of faithful and gallant services. There should be something to stimulate and to reward good men. And there should also be a regulation of means by which the worst men can be expelled from a ship and kept out of the Navy, for the conduct and character of the whole crew is frequently influenced and formed by the good or bad examples of individual sailors.

The condition and welfare of Sailors in the American Navy, Lt. D. says, are less cared for than those of any other Nation. There are no laws or regulations designed or calculated to elevate or improve, to encourage or reward them. Instead of being shipped by Officers of the Government, they are caged in Rummeries and entrapped when drunk by "Crimps," who take their three months' advance pay, for which the Sailors receive bad clothes and worse rum. If "Jack" serves faithfully until he is worn out, no refuge or retreat is provided for him. In the English and other Navies, though Sailors are not as well paid as ours, they are really better off, because they are in various ways protected by philanthropic regulations.

It is strange that with a Board of Navy Commissioners, consisting of experienced Officers, something has not been done for the protection of American Seamen. There must be Naval Officers about Washington equal to the task of reforming and improving our Naval System. Why will not some enlightened Member of Congress examine the English Navy regulations, and in consultation with Com. Smith, or some such Officer, prepare a Bill which, while it abolishes Rum and the Lash, provides such punishments as will restrain bad men, and offer such inducements as will encourage and reward good Sailors W.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE SENTINEL.

MADISON, April 7, 1852.

The town meeting yesterday passed off without any broken heads, or bloody noses, so far I can learn. As was expected the whole Loco ticket was elected, with the exception of one Justice of the Peace. In the case of the unfortunate exception, it seems that he had the unparalelled impudence to go into a Loco caucus on the evening previous to the election, and recommend the voters not to drink any whiskey! Of course he was defeated—served him right!

The House did not pass many bills at its evening session yesterday, but saved an hour and more from the day hours in the discussion of the Senate bill, providing for the employment of Gen. Smith in compiling a documentary history of the state. The report of the proceedings will have shown the turn which the question took and the condition in which it was left. The objections to the passage of the bill are two, and are urged by different persons. One is the expense to the state; it being proposed to appropriate $600 to be paid out on certificate of the Governor for necessary expenses in procuring documents. The documents are to be the property of the state, however. The other objection urged is, that Gen. Smith's advanced age renders him an inappropriate person to be charged with the work. It is every way desirable that the work of preparing materials for such a history should be commenced and it is quite likely that the bill will pass, though there may be some modifications.

The land grant memorial, which was noticed as having passed the House two or three days since, came up in Senate this morning. It will be recollected that it enumerated a long list of railroads for whose benefit the grant is asked of Congress, and that a proviso was added, to the effect that the lands should be kept in market until sold, at not more than $1,25 per acre. Mr. Palmer offered a substitute for the memorial, expressing the satisfaction of the Legislature at the passage of the land bills through the U. S. Senate, and asking Congress to pass the bills now before that body for grants for roads in Wisconsin. Quite an interesting debate sprung up, and the Senate after an hour or two adopted the substitute with sundry amendments, and it was referred to a select committee. As it now stands, it asks that the lands be granted to the state in trust for the various railroads—the state to have entire control as to time and manner of disposal of them, and the price not to be over $1,25 per acre. In some such form the memorial will probably pass, if at all.

The House settled the troublesome bridge question at issue between the Menasha and Neenah people by killing the bill asked for by the former The vote was very decisive, strong representations being made to the effect that the bridge asked for would seriously obstruct the navigation of the river.

Monsieur Tonson made his appearance again this afternoon in all his grace and beauty, in the shape of a bill limiting the rate of interest which parties may contract for. A brief and sharp debate ensued between Messrs. Botkin, Sholes and Barber, and on motion of Mr. Van Nostrand, the bill, with some half dozen amendments, was indemnitely postponed by the following vote:

Ayes—Abbott, Bancroft, Barber, Blodgett, Burnham, Cate, Catton, Clemons, Cramond, Fellows, Hackett, Hammett, Hasse, Hoyt, Kinney, Lewis, McKee, Mead, Monroe, Moore, Mott, Patch, Peak, Powers, Ricker, Root, Sholes, Sterling, Strong, Sugden, Tracy, Utley, Van Nostrand, Worthington, Shafter—35.

The Apportionment bill was ordered engrossed in the Senate this afternoon by a vote of 11 to 6.

As I mentioned before, the bill had been killed by striking out all after the enacting clause; but that sort of killing does not leave things thoroughly dead, and the vote was reconsidered, and, after a discussion which occupied most of the afternoon, the bill passed to its engrossment, as it came from the joint committee, with the exception that Dodge county is given 6 members instead of 5 making the whole number of assemblymen 77. Were it not for this bill, the business of the session might be finished up by the middle of next week; for it does not seem probable that the Bank Law will occupy any great length of time. It had not been reported from the Senate select committee, up to 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The House disposed of about 20 bills during the day sessions. Among those ordered engrossed in the afternoon was a very important one, drawn by Mr. Shafter, providing for the sale of delinquent tax lands, and for the settlement of titles to lands purchased at such sales.

Another veto this afternoon, and a just one, too, as appears to be clear enough. It is a bill "relating to the sale of mortgaged premises," which passed the House without much consideration on the 28th of February, and the Senate on Saturday last. It provides that all decrees in Chancery for the foreclosure of mortgages, shall hereafter contain a clause giving a right to redeem in one year where the sum involved is less than $1000, and two years where the sum is more than that. This is the substance of the bill. The Governor takes the ground that the bill conflicts with the law which forbids legislation impairing the obligation of contracts, in thus giving a right of redemption to mortgagors who have made their contracts with no such rights existing at the time of making them. The consideration of the veto was postponed till Monday next. W. H. W.

A SPECIMEN BRICK.—The Wisconsin of last evening copies from the Madison Democrat portions of a very coarse and scurrilous personal assault upon Gov. FAIRWELL and his Private Secretary, H. S. ORTON, Esq., with the sole purpose, apparently, of lugging in the following inuendo:

We publish an extract to show the animus which actuates the writer or writers. As we read the communication, it occurred to us, from the style and some other marks, that it may have been cooked up by Hans Crocker, Rufus King, and Jas. S. Brown.

So far as we are concerned, this is only another sample of the Wisconsin's small spite—too small, indeed, to call for notice, or reply. But the imputations upon the other gentlemen named is alike gratuitous and uncalled for; known to be false by the reckless and mendacious sheet which utters it, and put forth for no other or better object than to gratify its monkey malice and feed a personal grudge.

United States District Court.

Hiram W. Floyd, vs. Amos Dodge—Ejectment. Jury find in favor of the defendant. A number of judgments entered, damages assessed by a jury and the Clerk.

☞ The Concert of Mademoiselle JACQUES will take place on Monday evening instead of Tuesday, as at first announced. We learn from Mr. H. H. Dorr, the Manager of the party, that the Concert of Madamoiselle JACQUES at Chicago on Thursday evening was one of the most successful ever given in that city. We know Mr. SQUIRES of old, as one of the best singers it was ever our good fortune to hear. He has a superb voice, and knows how to use it.

CITY GUARD'S SOIREE.—We understand that the Guards give a social party on Monday evening in Treat's New Hall, the proceeds of which is to reimburse the losses sustained by them at the fire in Johnson's Block. Mr. TREAT has kindly granted them the use of his Hall, since the fire, without any charge, and for this occasion. We bespeak for them a full attendance of their friends

☞ The Steamer Arctic was here again, in good season, yesterday afternoon, bringing us Detroit papers of Thursday morning Buffalo dates of Monday.

GETTING INTO THE PAPERS.—We mentioned a day or two since, that the full particulars of the pugilistic encounter between Lieutenant Governor BURNS and State Printer BROWN, which "came off" at Madison early in the winter, had been served up, with appropriate trimmings, in the London Times. Yesterday we saw a letter, from an American in Paris, dated March 17, addressed to a friend in this city, from which we make the following extract:

"I sometimes see Wisconsin news copied into the French papers; for example a fight at Madison, between certain high State Officials, appeared last week in Galignani's Messenger. Why does not the Governor make his office holders keep the peace and save scandal?"

The story bids fair to make the rounds of the press in both hemispheres. We shall hear of it yet in the Bengal Tiger, the Japan Lamp and the China Tea-cup.

DOUGHFACES.—In the U. S. Senate on the 30th ult., Mr. SEWARD presented a petition in favor of the repeal of the Fugitive Slave Law, and moved its reference to the Judiciary Committee. Mr. MASON, Chairman of that Committee, and a Southern man, said that he would not object. Mr. NORRIS, of New Hampshire, a Northern Doughface, moved to lay the petition on the table, and the motion prevailed, by Yeas 33 to Nays 11. The Nays were:

Messrs. Chase, Davis, Dodge of Wisconsin, Fish, Foote, Hale, Hamlin, Seward, Sumner, Upham, Wade—11.

Among the yeas was ISAAC P. WALKER, of this State; once a zealous Abolitionist, then a good "Free-Soiler" and now—what? In shining and and honorable contrast with his truckling and torgiversation, stands the vote of his consistent, straight-forward, and upright Colleague, Gov. DODGE. On the day preceding the above vote, Mr. WALKER presented a petition from Rock County, Wisconsin, of the same purport as the one presented by Mr. SEWARD, and on his (Mr. W's) motion, it was laid on the table.

THE REASON FOR IT.—The Democrat at Madison and the Commercial in this city have endeavored to "array the prejudices of birth" against the Governor, because he saw fit to appoint a new Librarian. The last Madison Statesman gives the following as the reason for this change:

In our reply to the charge made by the Democrat against the Governor for removing the Librarian, we yesterday remarked that we were unacquainted with the facts. We have since been informed that the removal was made by the unanimous request of the Supreme Court, and members of the bar in attendance, and not to subserve any personal or political gratification whatever.

MADEMOISELLE JACQUES.—The Chicago papers are quite enthusiastic in their praise of Mademoiselle JACQUES and Mr. SQUIRES, who have given three Concerts in that City, and will sing here on Monday evening next. The Tribune says:

The Concert of Mdlle Jacques, at the Tremont Hall, Tuesday eve, was attended by a respectable audience, who were something more than pleased—they were delighted. Mdlle possesses an admirable voice, and controls and directs it with an ease and power which shows the finished artiste. Mr. Squires, also, "brought down the house." "John Anderson" was sung with a clearness, and in a cadence, more touchingly beautiful by far than we have ever before heard. "The Flag of our Union," composed by General Geo. P. Morris was also sung with thrilling effect, and was rapturously encored.—Altogether, Mr Squires is superior, as a vocalist, to any gentleman we have ever had before a Chicago audience.

WASHINGTON COUNTY SEAT.—We understand that at the special election in Washington County on Monday last, WEST BEND carried the day. In 17 towns, there is a majority of 1083 votes in favor of the removal of the County Seat to West Bend. Three towns, Port Washington, Belgium and Grafton to hear from, which will diminish, but cannot overcome this majority.

THE IRISH EXILES.—The Dublin Freeman's Journal says the release of the Irish exiles has been fully settled upon by the English government. They will be set at liberty upon the sole condition that they are not, under any circumstances, to return to Ireland. In other words, the act of the English government is only to enlarge their prison house. So long as debarred from their native soil they are in one sense State prisoners.

RACINE COMMERCIAL.—We learn from the last number of the Racine Commercial Advertiser, that W. R. PERRY has sold out his interest to Messrs. W. W. PERRY & LEVI B. JONES, who will continue its publication, as an advocate of Whig principles and policy.

ORIGIN OF THE ASTOR RIOT.—Andrew Stevens of New York publishes in the Police Gazette of April 1st a full statement of the Astor Place riot, and acknowledging himself the getter up of it at the request of Mr. Forrest, and with his money.

CANAL CONTRACTS IN NEW YORK.—The bill declaring the Canal contracts valid, and directing the State officers to go forward with the work, passed the House on Tuesday, by a vote of 77 to 21.—One whig only voted nay.

CRICKET.—The Cricket match, yesterday afternoon, attracted quite a crowd of actors and spectators to the ground. It was well contested and very much enjoyed both by the players and the "outsiders" We think that this fine game will now become a "fixture" here.

Emigration from Germany.

Messrs. Editors:

All the news from Germany and from the seaports, where the German emigrants are starting from, agree in this point, that the emigration out of that country will amount to an extension as never before was heard from there, almost a migration of nations.

FROM ADVER, Belgium, 8 ships were to start in the month of March, with 1993 emigrants. The little dukedoms of Thuringia are reported to send almost 10,000 and the agents of the Bremen freighters were instructed not to inscribe any more for the month of March, there being no ships more to forward them. The fare for the month of April had raised to $23 in gold. Through Mannheim on the Rhine, there came to pass 1,300 passengers for America during one week, the last week of February. The same is reported from the route via. Havre. A letter from Strassburg, Feb. 26th says, the Rail Road Company was obliged to fit out special trains for the emigrants, the ordinary trains being unable to contain them. It is generally understood that the emigration from Germany will amount in this year to more than double the amount of last year, to wit; to about 250,000 persons.

A third part of them may be paupers, or people depending only on their own hands for making their livelihood here; but almost two-thirds of them are bringing over some money, as much as for buying or hiring a small farm in the west or as for establishing a small trading business in cities or villages. Many too are bringing over several thousands of dollars. The loss of Germany by this emigration is estimated to at be least $18,000,000 in cash or drafts.

Now, what is a loss for Germany ought to become a gain for us. There are plenty of farms and lands here in the West for them, and lots and houses still sufficient in the cities and villages, and the sooner they are ready to pay for them in cash, the better for us. Would not the State be far better off, if our Legislators would take care of the speedy appointment of a fit agent at New York, instead of ruining the credit of the State and of its citizens, by abolishing the collection of debts and by discouraging the emigrants from coming here, by the Maine Liquor Law, or even by keeping them off from the State to stay till the decision of the people at the next November election is over. The State of Michigan has an agent even at Stuttgart, in Germany, in the person of a U. S. Consul and by these and other means, especially by securing the interest of the German Immigrants Protecting Society at New York (Deutsche Gesellschaft der Stadt New York) has turned off for its own benefit, large streams of wealthy immigrants, that otherwise would have come to Wisconsin. Let us be like the wise virgins, and take oil in our vessels with our lamps!

New Jerusalem.

The following subjects, in a connected course, will be presented to the "New Church" Society at their Hall, corner of Wisconsin and Main Sts, up stairs, commencing to-morrow morning, and continued on succeding Sabbaths—viz: Life, Providence, Correspondence, The Human Frame, Religion, and The New Jerusalem. Although there is a general connection in these subjects still each part is complete in itself. The style in which these subjects are treated, is said to unsurpassed in beauty and force by anything in the English language. The subject to-morrow morning will be "Life" considered as to its conditions, origin, universality and uses. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

To all whom it may Concern.

The question has been often asked, and asked in vain, and now agitates the literati of this Western Athens, as to the authorship of the beautiful, but somewhat hackneied line:

"The feast of reason and the flow of soul."

It may gratify the curious in such matters to know that the much sought for gem, may be found set in Pope's imitation of the 1st Satire of Horace, and reads thus:—

"There St. John mingles, with my friendly bowl,
The feast of reason and the flow of soul"

Terrific Conflagration!!—Two Thousand People Houseless!!—$700,000 Property Destroyed!!!—Chillicothe in Ashes!!!

Chillicothe, Ohio, April 1, 1852.

At 12 o'clock this day a fire broke out, by the bursting of a stove in a cabinet shop, in the rear of the Clinton House, in this city, and, the wind blowing a hurricane towards the E.N. E., the flames soon communicated with the stables of the Hotel, and then to the building itself. In ten minutes the roof of that structure, five stories high was on fire, and cinders were wafted a great distance.

The buildings opposite the Clinton, on Walnut street, soon caught, and thence the flames spread rapidly towards Paint street, sweeping off every warehouse on the canal, north of Second street, and all the stabling, smoke-houses, &c. &c., in their rear. By 2 o'clock, every house in the square bounded by Walnut and Paint streets, and the canal and Second street, every store and warehouse, every tenement, with four single and singular exceptions, were inetrievably lost.

Still the wind blew, and as the canal was empty (the water being drawn off for repairs,) the entire northern part of the city, north of Second street, and east of the Clinton House, was at the mercy of the elements.

Suffice it to say, fully one-fourth of the taxable property in Chillicothe, including all the buildings on the tow most valuable squares, stores, hotels dwellings and warehouses, were destroyed!

The fire soon communicated across Paint street, beginning at the northern end, and spreading eastward, and southward towards the Madeira House. That, of course was destroyed. East of Mulberry street, (two squares from the place where the fire originated,) about one half of the buildings escaped, though some were burned at the distance of four or five furlongs from the Clinton House corner. The only houses left standing on the north side of Paint street, are those of O. H. W. Luckett, H. Holcomb, new Catholic Church, and Dr. Wills'

The whole population, women as well as men, are worn out with fatigue. By strenuous and heroic exertions, the fire was prevented from communicating to any building on the south side of Second street. While "Ross' Block" was burning, the heat on the opposite corners (Woodbridge's and Waddell's) was intense, and the cornices, shutters, &c. were only prevented from catching, by painful and constant exertions.

It is impossible to arrive at a correct estimate of losses. Old Chillicothe has received a blow from which she cannot recover in years. I name, as they occur to me, a few of the sufferers,

Two Thousand of our population are houseless. From Six to Eight Hundred Thousand Dollars worth of property was Consumed.

All our principal warehouses, with their stocks of groceries, pork, bacon, &c., &c., are burned.—Madeira's in another part of town, alone excepted.

Marfield's warehouse, Adams' & do, north of the Clinton House, and every building in that direction, to the Gas Works and Deer Creek street, are gone.

Marfield & Luckett's loss is quite heavy—$75,000, some say.

All of the fine row of stores in Adams's Block, with their contents, were destroyed viz: J. & A. Roads' and Marfield & Luckett's dry goods; Allen & Evans, hardware; Waddell, grocer, &c.

On the canal, Fullerton's, Holcomb's, Frazet's, Clarke & Sons, and all the smaller establishments—every vestige of a building are gone.

The Messrs. Frazer had just opened 20,000 canvass hams into their establishment, all of which with much other valuable "proceads of the hog," went by the board.

Miller &'s, Wm. Miller's, Bennett & Brother's, Douglas', Maddle & Shuff's, W. H. Douglas & Sons', Thos Glormley, James Mcclintick's it. W. & T. Corson's, O. T. Reese's dry goods, W. Kells' chian store, W. McGinnis' hat shop, several tailor shops, &c., were burned, on the west side, and every store, shop and building on the east side, from "May's corner," on the canal, to the Madeira house, inclusive. In this row the principal sufferers are Campbell & Brothers, A. D. Sproat, Deming & Co., Wm. Welsh, and Col. Miller, occupant of the Madeira House, Allston's, Jones' ware house, collector's office, &c., gone.

Not a single building of any sort is left standing on the square just indicated. The dwellings of W. Ross, Esq., A. C. Campbell, James A. McGinnis, the Masonic Hall, Mr. Charles Woodbridge, Dr. James Moore, in short, everybody who lived on this doomed district, were, with much of their contents, reduced to ashes.

The fire crossed the canal northwardly, and destroyed the foundry buildings of Shaw, West & Co., T. McDougall's dwelling, and fifty or more houses besides, whose occupants I have not positively ascertained. Those who are acquainted with our city will be surprised to hear that some buildings on the eastern side of Bridge street caught and were consumed.

Singular as it may seem, early in the fight the firemen were hastily driven from the best engine in the place, which was consumed where it stood.—Much of the apparatus beside was consumed.—With nothing to depend on for water supply but cisterns and wells, the best engines in the world could have done but little.

I have hastily sketched a few facts, as they occured to me, and, as our own office is knocked into pi, although not burned, I will thank you to publish the whole of this note—as long and incoherent as it may appear—for the information of the distant friends of our stricken city. The calmity with which she has been visited is more severe, in proportion to the size of the place, than any similar visitation I recollect to have read of. The fire at Fayetteville, those of San Francisco, &c., were not as severe, relatively speaking.

It would be difficult to exaggerate the effects of this fire on the present appearance and early future of our devoted city, by any pen and ink description. Fully seven-eighths of the entire amount of merchandize in town this morning has gone to feed the flames. Our principal hotels are in ashes. The Advertiser printing office, post office, wholesale grocery establishments, the Valley Bank, &c., &c., things that were N. Wilson, A. Spencer, T. Woodrow, Smart & McFarland, dry goods stores, J. W. Morris' drug store, and all the offices in Ross' Block, on Second St., are consumed.

The court house, county offices, U. S. Land Office, all the churches in the city, all the mills, Welsh's large foundry, and some other important establishments, (though some of them ran narrow risks,) are unscathed.

Very truly, yours, SENECA W. ELY,

Yankee Silsbee in Edinburgh.

The Edinburgh Mercury, of March 11, has the following criticism upon Yankee Silsbee's performances. He was then playing at the Theatre Royal, in that city, having concluded very successful engagements in London, Liverpool, Manchester &c:

Mr. Josh Silsbee, an American performer, and who has acquired celebrity by his delineation of the broader and more palpable traits of the Yankee, made his first appearance here on Monday evening, and was received with great cordiality by a numerous and fashionable audience. Those present were prepared for something beyond the common, as was evident by the mirth that reigned in the house, when Mr. Silsbee entered as Jonathan Ploughboy. Nor did Mr. Silsbee disappoint the expectation. There was, in his hugely droll appearance, and the quiet self-assurance that played on his features, an earnest of a portrait certainly original, and we must presume also genuine, though probably highly colored. He had scarcely uttered a word when the house was in a roar of laughter, which did not fall off when he commenced to move about and exhibit his singularly odd exterior, set off to the full effect by his eccentric gestures—even the swallow tails of his coat seemed to assume a species of vitality, so whimsical were their contortions. The piece was called the Forest Rose, and like the Yankee Pedlar, which followed in the course of the evening, was exceedingly slight in its structure, but answering the purpose, which was to introduce a specimen of the Yankee American character in its simple breadth. Accordingly we had Mr. Silsbee before us as the shrewd, gainseeking, inquisitive Yankee of rural life, so perfectly at ease with himself to know not the meaning of the terms social restraint in carrying out his propensities, all based on the "go-a-head" principle, which seemed to resolve into the maxim "mind your self" He talked with a volubility that rivalled Charles Mathews in Patter versus Clatter, starting off in what, to unpractised ears, appeared at first an unintelligible jargon, and winding up with some Yankee saw, irresistably humorous in its grotesque combination. Mr. Silsbee, aside from his familiarity with the manners he represents, possesses real comic vigor. Some of his happiest strokes were accomplished by little more than a twinkle of the eye, or some comparatively slight but expressive gesticulation, that denoted the true artist. This dramatic skill, of course, imparts a freedom and finish to his sketches. The audience were often in a tumult of laughter both at his sayings and doings, and all in keeping with the character; and when he launched forth in the Cape Cod Reel as the dance was termed, the drollery of his movements, rapid, angular, and abrupt, as if an automaton had been suddenly and violently set in motion, fairly overcame the house.

In the Yankee Pedlar Mr. Silsbee was equally amusing, and at the conclusion was called before the curtain amidst the enthusiastic plaudits of the audience. He has made a palpable hit with the Edinburgh public.

COOL, BUT NOT PLEASANT.—Passengers arrived last night who had been imprisoned by the ice on the steamer Ohio in Lake Erie for eight days The steamer drifted in a wilderness of ice to near the N. Y. State line, and being out of provisions, the passengers went ashore on the ice, a distance of four miles! The icy waste extended into the Lake farther than the eye could reach, from the steamer.—Chicago Journal 8th inst.

Jenny Goldschmidt.

Minister to Rome.

Washington April 8th.

The President, is said, has determined to nominate W. D. Merrick, of Maryland, as charge to Rome, in place of Lewis Cass, Jr., who is to be recalled. The nomination will meet with much opposition in the Senate as memorials have been already received against sending a Catholic to the "Eternal City," on the ground that a Protestant should be there to look after Protestant interests.

Rhode Island Election.

Providence, April 8.

Our election has resulted in the return of Allen, Democrat, for Governor, by about 300 majority—Lawrence, Democrat, for Lieutenant Governor is badly beaten. The Whigs have two majority in the Senate over all, and eight in the House.—Two Senators and four Representatives to be chosen.

American Steamer Fired Into.

New Orleans, April 7.

As the steamer Camanche was ascending the Rio Grande with 40 passengers, including several ladies and General Caravajal, she was fired into from the shore by some Mexican soldiers. Several shots struck the bow, but luckily no lives lost.—The shots were probably intended for Gen. Caravajal. The outrage has excited much indignation among the Americans.

The Clay Medal and the Scott Medal.

Medals conferred by public gratitude upon public men, seem to be subject to singular casualties. Recently the medal presented by New York gentlemen to Mr. Clay was stolen from the top of a New York omnibus, where it was placed by Mr. Butler, and is probably long before this melted into ingots and applied to other uses. A more singular incident than that befell a medal given to General Scott. This medal was voted by Congress in 1814, for his services in the sucessive conflicts of Chippewa and Niagara, and his uniform gallantry and good conduct in sustaining the reputation of the army of the United States." It was presented in February, 1825, by the hands of President Monroe. It was deposited by Gen. Scott for safe keeping in the City Bank of New York. Some time after that the Bank was entered by false keys, and robbed of bullion and funds to the amount of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The first clerk discovered that the medal was safe, though every dollar deposited in the trunk with it was abstracted! The robber had opened the case in which the medal was placed, but left that large piece of massive gold untouched! The matter was inexplicable to the officers of justice. No motive for such forbearance could be discovered.

In the course of time the robber was arrested, the funds recovered, and he punished in the Penitentiary. A little while after, Scott's purse was stolen on a North River boat. The Chief of Police discovered the robber and restored the purse. In the course of examining the culprit, the robber of the City Bank was examined, and he reproached his confederate with want of honorable bearing: "For," said he,"when I took the money from the City Bank, I saw and well knew the value of the medal; but I scorned to take from the soldier what had been given by the gratitude of his country!"

The moral of this lesson is at once instructive and admonitory. The man who had crept thro' dark passages and damp vaults, at the risk of life, to rob a bank, withholds his hand in token of reverence, from even gold, when proffered by his country upon her defenders. Stained though he be by a thousand crimes, this one virtue lifts him above that horde of politicians, who have not "scorned" to soil the laurel won by blood and conferred by gratitude!

Think of it as they may, this fact is admonitory. Gratitude for real and solid services sinks deep into the heart of the body of the people. Mere professions of patriotism may deceive for a moment, and the splendor of eloquence may dazzle the people; but when we pass from the coteries of politicians, and the halls of the Senate ,to mingle with those millions of the community who hear and care little for either—it is they who have done great acts, or ministered to the public good, or defended their country, whom the people remember to love, and love to honor.—Cin Gaz.

From the Racine Advocate.

Mr. Mitchell is accused by some of the papers of having the State officers under pay. Now we don't believe a word of the story. They may want to be in his good graces, and to get money from his bank, but we do not believe they will get it from him except on good paper, nor that they will be treated in any respects different from other customers.—If we are not mistaken, Mr. Mitchell is a staunch business man, and has a great pride in doing business as it ought to be done; besides he had rather lose money in a business-like manner than make it by knuckling to men because they have authority. That he wished the suit put off, is both natural and proper, and were it certain a system would be adopted at the coming election, it would not be worth while to press the suit could it be avoided. He does not agree to continue his bank under the new law, perhaps will not. He may be able to do better. He may be able to bank under some other state law, and give security by which our own people will like better, or he may go out of the business, but we do not believe he would, if asked, pay the officers for an extension of a mere permission to go on from day to day, when the power of those giving permission is so limited.

New York Items.

New York, April 1.

The Erie Railroad receipts for March will reach nearly $250,000.

Many of those who took the spurious tickets, returned in the William Penn, and complained bitterly of the imposition. They represent that there are at least 2000 persons now at Panama, many of whom are in a most distressing condition, and several have died

Pride & Co. have published a card, stating that upon an examination of the case, it will be found that their course has been quite honorable.

The N. O. papers state that Matamoras is hereafter to be a free port.

The Picayune publishes an extract from a letter from the treasurer of Texas, stating that he is now paying the claims upon the State, either in gold or U. S. bonds, at 3 per cent premium.

The packet ship Northumerland arrived this morning from London, in the short passage of 16 days.

The English papers state that the Astrian war steamer Annawan was recently lost off Dalmatter with 40 lives.

PRESSED, FIRE-PROOF TILING.

CERTIFICATES OF RECOMMENDATION.

BY the present, I attest my entire satisfaction with the roof of my house, covered with the pressed, fire-proof Tile, invented by Mr. Graessle; having found them perfectly secure during snow-storms, rain, wind and intense cold. I hereby take occasion to recommend said roof covering to every house-builder, inviting them to satisfy themselves by ocular inspection of the excellent quality of the same. ENNO MEYER,
Druggist, 374 W. Water-st., 2nd ward.
Milwaukee, Feb. 3, 1852.

The above I found true in every respect, as to the roof of my house, covered with the same tile, invented by Mr. Graessle. AUGUST KRUG,
Brewer, Chestnut-st., 2nd ward.

The undersigned, having carefully examined the pressed roofing Tiles, invented by Mr. Graessle, have found them perfectly answering the purpose intended. Their practical and tasteful construction recommend this kind of Tile, not only as a fire-proof and perfectly water-proof covering, but above all for its durability. The ridges and channels not only exclude the entering of snow or rain-water, but, by their firm and precise joining of one into the other, they give to the single Tile as well as to the whole covering an absolutely immovable position and an intimate connection. Besides this, Mr. Graessle's method of burning the Tiles, deprives them of the injurious tendency to absorb water, making them in this way durable; and joining to the above another virtue, viz. that of dispensing with repairs. The undersigned therefore consider ourselves fully justified in recommending to the building community the above roofing Tile as an excellent and valuable material.

OTTO SCHWARTZ, } Architects
VICTOR SCHULTE, } & Builders.
Milwaukee, Feb. 5, 1852.

To G. Graessle:—I have examined the Roofing Tile made by you, and have no hesitation in recommending them to general use, and particularly as a fire-proof roof.

STATE FAIR.

CRANE'S PATENT SOAP took the FIRST PREMIUM at the STATE FAIR at Janesville; also at the State Fair of the State of New York, and at the Great Fair of the American Institute. For the last it took, because IT IS THE BEST SOAP IN USE. If any are still skeptical, let them read the following—the names to which might be indefinitely extended—and then try for themselves, and if it don't succeed, they don't follow the directions:—

We have used CRANE'S PATENT SOAP in our families for the past eighteen months, and pronounce it FULLY EQUAL TO HIS RECOMMENDATIONS. We do not discover that it injures clothing in the least. It is the cheapest soap in use. We should not willingly do without it.

GRIST MILLS.

THE subscribers, thankful for past favors, beg leave to announce that they have recently added the FOUNDRY business to their former occupation of Mill Stone manufacturing, and are now prepared to supply the public with articles in either branch, on terms that will defy competition. In offering our Stoves to the community, we do so with the full assurance that we can supply better articles than can be purchased at any other place, being entirely new patterns, manufactured with care and from the very best materials. The following list of patterns is offered with the confidence that they will give satisfaction in every particular, viz:

THE ECONOMIST
DOUBLE OVEN COOKING STOVE,

Possesses great advantages over every other stove, for plain fuse and direct application of heat, being so arranged that one or both ovens can be used at pleasure. It will cook in half the time of any other stove now in use, and with half the fuel, not consuming over four cords of wood in one year.

The TRIUMPH, single oven, takes in long wood, is an excellent stove—one that has been well tested, and given general satisfaction.

The PREMIUM is different in its construction from any other made, in the arrangement of the fire back—acknowledged to be a great improvement.

The JUNO PARLOR is adapted to either wood or coal, being decidedly the neatest arrangement ever offered to the public, having all the convenience of the stove combined with the beauties of the open grate. It is beautifully ornamental, highly finished, and perfect in every respect—the entire front above and below the grate being opened or closed with three doors, and so arranged that when open they are completely out of sight. It is equally adapted to offices as well as parlors.

The RADIATOR is the best coal stove ever got up as a radiator of heat.

Persons purchasing their stoves of us, in the event of any of the plates getting broke, can at all times be supplied with extra ones, thus superseeding the necessity of throwing away stoves, which many are daily compelled to do in buying Eastern stoves.

Those who are in want of an articles in our line, will find it to their advantage to give us a call, before purchasing elsewhere. As we have decided to sell at the lowest cash prices in all cases. City references given, where our stoves can be seen in operation. Stoves delivered and set up in any part of the city, free of charge. All orders promptly attended to.
